YOUR Fundraising PACK

All the advice and tips you need to raise money for Cornwall Wildlife Trust

help

thank you

You're helping to protect Cornwall's wildlife and wild places!

Thank you for choosing to support Cornwall Wildlife Trust, Cornwall's leading local wildlife charity. Despite being surrounded by a diversity of wildlife and wild places, our stunning habitats and species are in decline. We work tirelessly to protect and prevent this but it's fundraisers like you that make our work possible.

Included in this pack is everything you should need to get your fundraising event on the go; just add friends! From advice to personal stories, and information about how your donations are put to good use, we want to make organising your fundraising event as easy as possible.

Whether you're hiking the South West coast path, or taking a dip in the sea with friends, we can't wait to see how you have chosen to fundraise.

“ Last year I decided to do something a bit different - and hike the 300 mile coastline of gorgeous Cornwall by myself, to raise money for Cornwall Wildlife Trust and spread the love of the incredible wildlife and landscapes that we are so lucky to have on our doorstep. Using just my iPhone, I made a little video each day for 22 days, all about the wildlife I encountered on my adventure. I can't think of a more exciting and important time to be getting outside and spending time in our environment - and what better way to demonstrate your passion for our wild spaces to everyone than fundraising for Cornwall Wildlife Trust!

tips

Jump in... it's easier than you think

1

Who, What, Where, Weather

Think about who to invite, do you want people to take part or sponsor you? What event do you want to do? (this pack is full of ideas.) Where is your event going to take place? What will the weather be like? If your event is outdoors make sure you are ready for all eventualities!

Just pick a date well in advance so you can let everyone know about it.

Invite

Promote your event. Send out invites, use the posters provided and create an online Facebook event so that everyone knows what you're up to!

Remember to include time, date, location and purpose.

Tell the media, and us (fundraising@cornwallwildlifetrust.org.uk).

3

Prepare!

Whether you're training for your event, or making decorations – make sure you have everything you need for the big day (Make the most of this kit!) Stay as environmentally friendly as possible, plastic bags, balloons and glitter harm wildlife and habitats. You can have just as much fun without them!

“ Getting out to clean our local beach was a great way to raise money and work together as a community. We realised we could clean up our town and help the environment at the same time, and it was very warming to see how many people joined in! Now we make sure things like this happen more often, and are very grateful to Cornwall Wildlife Trust for all their support. ”

Enjoy!

It's important that you enjoy your day, it is fundraising after all! Take lots of pictures to record your event (these will be great to send to the press to let them know how well you have done!)

Don't forget to tell us how your day went, and share what you're doing on social media. You can find us here:

staying safe

(legal stuff)

A few things to ensure your fundraising event runs smoothly

Responsibility

It's really important that all safety aspects are thought about beforehand, as Cornwall Wildlife Trust cannot be held responsible for any accidents or incidents that occur as a result of your fundraising event, so please stay safe & sensible!

Public Events

Check hse.gov.uk for information about holding your event in a public place, and remember to obtain a licence if you are collecting money on the day in a public location!

Safety

Always do a risk assessment for the location of your event, to make sure you have covered any hazards. Visit sja.org.uk or institute-of-fundraising.org.uk for more information.

Food & Drink

If you're providing refreshments, make sure you alert people to any allergens. food.gov.uk is a comprehensive website for food safety laws in the UK.
